It Need Not Hurt Forever... There Is Life After Divorce....

Divorce and/or Separation is a shattering experience. There are two losses: One is the loss of a person; the other the loss of the dream in which you invested - the marriage itself. You may feel you are the only person who has this experience. You may be wondering if this whole thing is just too difficult to tackle. You may feel isolated from your community. You are not alone.

Come and join others who have lost a marriage and begin to build your new life again
