“To know Christ better, live as He calls us to live, and make Him better known.”

THE CATHOLIC COMMUNITY OF PLEASANTON

JULY 7, 2019

FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“\textquote{The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few…}”

\textit{Luke 10:1-9}

\textbf{Gospel Reading}

After this the Lord appointed seventy-two others whom he sent ahead of him in pairs to every town and place he intended to visit. He said to them, \textquote{The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest. Go on your way; behold, I am sending you like lambs among wolves. Carry no money bag, no sack, no sandals; and greet no one along the way. Into whatever house you enter, first say, ’Peace to this household.’ If a peaceful person lives there, your peace will rest on him; but if not, it will return to you. Stay in the same house and eat and drink what is offered to you, for the laborer deserves his payment. Do not move about from one house to another. Whatever town you enter and they welcome you, eat what is set before you, cure the sick in it and say to them, ’The kingdom of God is at hand for you.’}

\textit{Luke 10:1-9}
A Note From Deacon Gary

Recently, the media have reported that Pope Francis has changed the text of the Lord’s Prayer. I’ve had a few questions about the change and when we were going to make it. Here is a definitive response from the FDLC (Federation of Diocesan Liturgical Commissions):

TRANSLATION OF THE LORD’S PRAYER
On June 6, the secular media reported that Pope Francis “changed” the text of the Lord’s Prayer from “lead us not into temptation” to “Do not let us fall into temptation.” Pope Francis rightfully stated that God never leads us into temptation.

Not surprisingly, I have received many calls and e-mails asking when the “new translation of the Lord’s Prayer” should be implemented. As many of you know, a new translation of a liturgical text will not be announced through the secular media. What happened? Many of the news outlets reported on a translation in Europe and erroneously extended it to the United States.

The conference of bishops in Italy had recently approved an Italian translation to the Roman Missale, terza edizione. Pope Francis approved this edition and was explaining his approval of the new translation of the Lord’s Prayer and the theology behind it. (In other languages, too, the phrase better translates into “do not let us fall into temptation.”)

In 2010, the USCCB voted to keep the traditional translation of the Lord’s Prayer in the English translation of the Roman Missal, third edition. They even retained “thy” and “thou” because the words were most familiar to the faithful. Until you hear otherwise, this remains the official translation for the dioceses of the United States. There are no plans at this time to revisit that translation.

Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions.

Blessings,
Dn. Gary
